INFORMATION LETTER TO PARTICIPANTS

TITLE OF PROJECT:
An explanatory study of subject selection choices between academic and vocational education subjects at Year 10 level in secondary schools in Queensland: A Quantitative and Qualitative Analysis

PRINCIPAL SUPERVISOR: Dr Judith Muholland

STUDENT RESEARCHER: Therese Nolan

PROGRAMME IN WHICH ENROLLED: Doctor of Education

Dear Participant

You are invited to participate in a study that investigates how students make their subject choices between the academic and vocational education subjects for senior studies whilst in Year 10. This will involve completing two questionnaires during school time using computers. One questionnaire will be in Term II and seek to find out your interests and what you think you may choose at this time. The second questionnaire will be in Term IV and will find out what you actually did choose and ask whether you would like to be one of two students who could be interviewed at the school about their choices.

The first questionnaire may take approximately 30 minutes to complete on line and the second questionnaire approximately 20 minutes. The interviews will take no more than 30 minutes and you may have an adult present during the interviews if you are uncomfortable about telling the story behind your choices for senior study. The interviews will be tape recorded.

This study is intended to assist students make their choices by finding out what affect their decisions as they make these choices. The preferred information can then be made available for students in the future to assist in their choices. For school staff it can give them an indication as to how students make their choices and what influences them to take the subject combinations they do. For Queensland students, the types of choices students make and patterns of choice is topical due to the recent changes in legislation regarding the Queensland Certificate of Education. Withdrawal from the study will not affect academic progress as this study is unrelated to the educational outcomes of any students or employment criteria for any staff.

Confidentiality of information gained will be guarded throughout the research process. Firstly the names of the schools will be masked through the use of pseudonyms, and staff and students will be unidentifiable as their names will be replaced by letters from the alphabet i.e. student A, principal A etc. Participation in the questionnaire will involve the participant making their own identifier comprising their mother’s maiden name initials and their date of birth i.e. Mary O’Shea 4 April 1998 is mos04081998. Only in the last questionnaire will students be invited to offer their name if they are interested in being approached for an interview to tell the story behind their choice of subjects. A report on the outcomes of the aggregated data will be published in journals or articles about subject selection choices in Queensland.

Any questions regarding this project should be directed to the Principal Supervisor or the Student Researcher.
